

TUDOR & STUART IRELAND

CONFERENCE 2013

PROGRAMME

Friday, 30 August 2013

13.15	Registration, UCD School of History and Archives
13.45	Opening Address: Room K114
14.00	Session 1A, Room K114 Chair: Dr John Bergin Dr Eoin Kinsella (UCD) ‘That dreadful and most unhappy debt’: the decline of the Clanricarde family fortune, c.1660–1714 Jeffrey Chambers (TCD) History writing and Three Kingdom identity in Late Stuart Ireland Dr Charles Ivar McGrath (UCD) Failed plans and proposals for national banks and paper currencies in Ireland in the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries	Session 1B, Room K115 Chair: Dr Ian Campbell Dr Estelle Murphy (UCC) ‘Hyde’s advice and Nassau’s arme’: the earliest surviving Dublin birthday ode unmask’d Jessica Cunningham (NUIM) ‘For the maintenance of the honour and dignity of this cittie’: The acquisition of silver by Irish municipal corporations in the seventeenth century
15.30	Tea/Coffee
16.00	Session 2A, Room K114 Chair: Dr Charles Ivar McGrath Simon Egan (UCC) The road to Flodden: James IV and Ireland, 1488–1513 Dr Neil Johnston (DCMS) Charles II and the governance of Ireland, 1660–65 William Ferguson (Cambridge University) Irish-Scottish government relations, 1685–1690	Session 2B, Room K115 Chair: Dr Brid McGrath Dr David Heffernan (UCC) The Viceroyalty of Sir John Perrot, 1584–88 Dr Ruth Canning (UCC/Concordia University) James Fitzpiers Fitzgerald: loyalist, secret traitor or double agent? Dr John McCafferty (UCD) Apostolical Missioner: the worlds of Nicholas Archbold, Irish Capuchin (d.1645?)
17.45	Plenary Address, Room K114 Chair: Prof. James McGuire Prof. Raymond Gillespie (NUIM) Doing early modern Ireland: individuals, identities and ideas
19.30	Conference Dinner Donnybrook Fair, Donnybrook

Supported by:

Saturday, 31 August 2013

11.00	Session 3A, Room K114 Chair: Dr Ruth Canning Dr Gerald Power (Metropolitan University, Prague) The 'New English' in Ireland before 1534 Kieran Hoare (NUIG) The economy of the English Pale under the early Tudors Raina Howe (NUIG) Breaking the wooden fastness of Ireland	Session 3B, Room K115 Chair: Dr Tadhg Ó hAnnracháin Carla Lessing (NUIG) The 'civil' English and the 'wild' Irish: a discussion of Tudor and Stuart concepts of civility Dr Ian Campbell (UCC) Calvinism, Catholic scholasticism, and the divine right of kings Dr John Bergin (QUB) Mary Butler (1641-1723), Abbess of the Irish Benedictine house at Ypres, and the Anglo-Irish background
12.30	Lunch
13.30	Session 4A, Room K114 Chair: Dr Neil Johnston Dr Tadhg Ó hAnnracháin (UCD) Richard Bellings and Ireland in the 1630s: changing the story Andrew Robinson (University of Ulster) 'Not otherwise worthy to be named, but as a firebrand brought from Ireland to inflame this kingdom': Deconstructing the reputation of Sir John Clotworthy, 1st Viscount Massereene Eugene Coyle (University of Oxford) Sir Arthur Aston: the last Cavalier governor of Drogheda	Session 4B, Room K115 Chair: Dr John McCafferty Jeffrey Cox (UCD) A much-maligned prelate? The episcopate of Alexander Craik, 1560-64 Dr Áine Hensey (Ind.) '... negligent and fewe learned, and none of any good zeal as semeth ...': the development of a Church of Ireland episcopate in south-east Ireland, 1550-1650 Stephen Hand (UCC) 'A most pernicious book': Jean-Pierre Camus' Nicephor and Tristan (1630) and the power struggle between regular and secular clergy in seventeenth-century Ireland
15.00	Tea/Coffee
15.30	Session 5A, Room K114 Chair: Dr Eoin Kinsella Bronagh McShane (NUIM) Female spiritual testimony in 1650s Dublin: the case of John Rogers's Ohel Danielle McCormack (EUI) Mary Ware and James Sherley: a case of irregular marriage in 1660s Dublin Frances Nolan (UCD) '[A] very intriguing woman': Catherine Luttrell and female identity, agency and culpability after the Williamite-Jacobite War	Session 5B, Room K115 Chair: Dr Suzanne Forbes Dearbháile McCloskey-Hutchins (University of Ulster) The 'Cockayne Project' and the Plantation of Ulster Dr Marie Leoutre (UCD) The standing army controversy and Ireland, 1697-1699 Jamie Blake Knox (TCD) A Puritan foundation? The contested history of Trinity College, Dublin

Supported by:

